4. Methodology, learning tasks, syllabus and resources

4.1. Methodological overview

The learning process designed for this course is based on a combination of theory sessions, practice sessions and tutorials. The main goal in the theory sessions is to define the main concepts in brand management and discuss real problems in brand management. Students are encouraged in all these sessions to actively participate in the discussions. Practice sessions are linked to the students' assignments. These refer to the communication and discussion of academic papers. Finally, students may come to tutorials in order to solve their doubts either in the theory or in the development of their assignments.

4.2. Learning tasks

The course includes the following learning tasks:

- Theory sessions: 15 hours
- Discussion of academic papers and their practical applications: 20 hours
- Presentations of the readings: 40 hours

Note: It is expected that classes will take place at the Faculty (offline). However, classes would take place semi-on-site or online if it were necessary due to safety reasons.
