2.2. Learning goals

The student, to pass this subject, must demonstrate the following results:

1. Describe and analyze the basic contents of the corresponding curricular subject and apply them in a context of problem solving.
2. Assess the importance of the corresponding curricular matter from a phenomenological, cultural and epistemological point of view.
3. Analyze and prioritize the different contents of the corresponding curricular subject according to their formative value.

3. Assessment (1st and 2nd call)

4. Methodology, learning tasks, syllabus and resources

4.1. Methodological overview

The learning process designed for this subject is based on the following: The process followed in this subject consists of the argued discussion of the basic theoretical aspects that underpin the organising axes of the contents of the subjects that correspond to the specialities of Music and Dance; reading, study, presentation and discussion of the different most relevant materials available on the subject. On this basis, students will proceed to the analysis, evaluation and planning of different curricular design proposals for the subjects of Music or Dance. At the same time, the search for and selection of materials and information will be encouraged in a directed and autonomous way. Attempts will be made to create environments that favour the communicative dimension; encouraging debate and the active participation of students in the daily development of class work and promoting interaction between students and teachers, and among students. Inquiry and the expression of students' conceptions will be facilitated at all times, and constant reflection will be encouraged.

4.2. Learning tasks

The programme offered to students to help them achieve the expected results comprises the following activities:

- Expository-dialogical and discussion sessions.
- Active learning methodologies, with technological integration adapted to needs.
- Preparation of assignments.
- Oral presentation and debate of work.
- Tutorials.
