4.1. Methodological overview

The learning process that has been designed for this subject is based on the following: the methodology of this subject will alternate theory and practice in each of the sessions. In the theoretical part, the necessary knowledge will be provided for the student to be able to solve practical questions autonomously through guided discovery based on the review and analysis of authentic Spanish language materials.

The participation and critical spirit of the students will be fostered through interaction in small groups or in a large group with the teacher. The student will be encouraged to take the initiative to find the most appropriate way to present specific questions of Spanish as a foreign language (SFL) grammar to non-native students. In addition, the reading of works of special relevance for each of the questions dealt with in the subject will be recommended.

4.2. Learning tasks

Theoretical classes on fundamental aspects for the training of Spanish as a Foreign Language (SFL) teachers.

Practice classes in which the following activities will be carried out: analysis of teaching units of SFL manuals, critical review of common grammar explanations in SFL/ELE manuals, proposal of new ways of teaching grammar, development of appropriate activities for teaching certain grammar questions, revision and analysis of the CEFR and the PCIC and recommended reading.
