1. General information

2. Learning goals

3. Assessment (1st and 2nd call)

4. Methodology, learning tasks, syllabus and resources

4.1. Methodological overview

Students should agree with their supervisor all learning activities to develop, which depend on the selected topic and its scope. The Undergraduate Dissertation will be related to architecture, whose complexity and exigency level will be in relation to 6 ECTS (150 hours).

4.2. Learning tasks

The methodology use during the learning process will consist in the Undergraduate Dissertation's checking through tutorials. The tuotr will supervise the developed activities and help the student to reach expected results.

4.3. Syllabus

This is the first research work where students have the opportunity to work on a selected topic which will be approved by the Degree Academic Commission.

4.4. Course planning and calendar

The academic activities scheduled must be approved for each case with the Undergraduate Dissertation's (TFG) supervisor. EINA (<https://eina.unizar.es/>) internal regulations point out the different administrative steps to take into account.

4.5. Bibliography and recommended resources

Basic bibliography will be incorporated in the TFG's proposal, which previously directors and areas will do.
