

61251 - Philological methodology and literary source

Syllabus Information

Academic year: 2023/24

Subject: 61251 - Philological methodology and literary source

Faculty / School: 103 - Facultad de Filosofía y Letras

Degree: 553 - Master's in the Ancient World and Archaeological Heritage

ECTS: 6.0

Year: 1

Semester: First semester

Subject type: Compulsory

Module:

1. General information

The classes and the different evaluation tests will be adjusted to the Academic Calendar approved by the University and to the schedules established by the Faculty of Philosophy and Letters.

Although it is recommended, prior knowledge of Greek and Latin is not essential. On the other hand, regular and active attendance at classes and carrying out scheduled activities is recommended.

The objectives of the course are aligned with the Sustainable Development Goals (SDG) 4, 5, 10, 16 and 17 of the United Nations 2030 Agenda, in such a way that the acquisition of the learning results of the subject enables to contribute to some extent to its achievement.

2. Learning results

The course has a markedly instrumental character and aims to provide students with a practical knowledge of the instruments, techniques and methods that have characterized philological work.

3. Syllabus

I. Main philological sources.

II. Production, circulation and reception of the text in Antiquity.

III. Approach to critical edition.

IV. The use of texts as a source: from criticism to hermeneutics.

V. The use of texts as a source: typology, nature and functionality.

SAW. The use of texts as a source: cultural interpretations.

4. Academic activities

1. Presentation of theoretical issues and their discussion in class.

2. Commentary on original Greco-Latin texts or their translations.

3. Autonomous work by the student, consisting of recommended readings and preparation of a work on a subject to agree, and tutored by the teacher.

5. Assessment system

FIRST CALL

a) Continuous Assessment System (if applicable):

It does not arise.

b) Global Assessment Test (to be carried out on the date set in the Academic Calendar):

Test 1. Academic work (40%).

Maximum length: 50,000 characters (spaces and notes included) equivalent to about 15 pages.

Test 2. Written test on the program of the subject (60%).

SECOND CALL

Global Assessment Test (to be carried out on the date set in the Academic Calendar):

Test 1. Academic work (40%).

Maximum length: 50,000 characters (spaces and notes included) equivalent to about 15 pages.

Test 2. Written test on the program of the subject (60%).

General evaluation criteria: the degree of knowledge of the conceptual framework of the subject will be valued; the organization, coherence and precision in the exhibition; the capacity for analysis and synthesis; personal contribution founded on individual work; the proper use of specialized terminology; presentation and formal proofreading.