

68803 - Health, sexuality and gender relations in the family

Syllabus Information

Academic year: 2023/24

Subject: 68803 - Health, sexuality and gender relations in the family

Faculty / School: 108 - Facultad de Ciencias Sociales y del Trabajo

Degree: 460 - Master's in Gender Relations

ECTS: 6.0

Year: 1

Semester: First semester

Subject type: Compulsory

Module:

1. General information

The subject is interdisciplinary and has 3 objectives:

- To know the approaches in the study of the body, emotions and sexuality, as well as the intersections between them.
- To approach contemporary feminist debates on issues related to the body and sexuality.
- To integrate a gender perspective in family relationships, to know the possible actions to take in the face of gender violence.

These approaches and objectives are aligned with the following Sustainable Development Goals of the United Nations 2030 Agenda, such that the acquisition of the learning results provides training and competence to contribute to some extent to their achievement: 3, 5, and 16.

2. Learning results

Upon completion of this subject, the student will be able to:

- 1.- Understand and discover the female body and its social construction and differentiate sexual diversity.
- 2.- Differentiate the problems of the different stages of the life cycle.
- 3.- Capture and reflect on power relations in the family and the legal effects.
- 4.- Detect and reflect on social exclusion, women and violence against women.

3. Syllabus

1. GENDER, BODY AND SEXUALITY

- Theories, concepts and perspectives on the body and the construction of the female body.
- Sexuality as an instrument of power and political control.
- Male and female sexualities; Sexual diversity.

2. HEALTH AND GENDER

- Health
- Aging.
- Mental health

3. FAMILY AND GENDER RELATIONS

- Domestic space/public space.
- Power relations in the family.
- Marriage and domestic partnership; fundamental legal effects. Dissolution.
- Family and legal relationships. Affiliation.

4. GENDER VIOLENCE

- Psychosociological and medical aspects of violence.
- Violence against women from the legal point of view.
- Seeking alternatives to violence.
- Media and violence against women.

4. Academic activities

1. Presentation of theoretical concepts and knowledge.
 2. Presentation and discussion, by the students, of part of the bibliography on the programmed contents.
 3. Use of audiovisual resources and various practical activities in the classroom to encourage discussion and participation. The aim is to stimulate students to inquire into various questions as they delve deeper into the theoretical presentations.
- Sessions will be held in accordance with the established academic calendar. The activities to be carried out, as well as the date of the same, will be indicated on the Moodle website of the subject.

5. Assessment system

The student must demonstrate achievement of the intended learning results through the following assessment activities:

FIRST CALL

Continuous assessment:

1.
 1. Continuously through the practical activities in each of the sessions and active participation in the debates. When, in spite of opting for continuous evaluation, it is not possible to attend some of the sessions, the teacher in charge will indicate the activity that will make up for the absences (summary or commentary of theoretical texts). In the case of not reaching 80% of the total face-to-face sessions, the global evaluation must be carried out.
 2. Presentation of an individual or pair work, which will consist of an essay or commentary of theoretical texts or sentences (jurisprudence) on one of the topics of the program.

Each of these activities will be evaluated out of 10 points, and the final grade will be the average of the two grades.

The overall evaluation

Students who do not attend the face-to-face sessions will have to submit, in the official call, an individual paper consisting of an essay on a topic indicated by the teacher in charge, , and critical summaries of at least 2 theoretical texts or legal pronouncements.

SECOND CALL

The second call coincides with the global evaluation.